Considering Lake Carmi's History & Future

I know there are plenty of topics around the lake to write about, but one that keeps reoccurring is how we refer to the homes on the lake.

Originally intended as weekend fishing camps, the word stuck, and "camp" became the norm. The Lake Carmi "Campers" Assoc. was established, and at some point in our history, little, green, metal signs resembling license plates were distributed.

The signs identified each camp around the lake by number. My sign read "Camp 72."

As the lake evolved, weekend camps gave way to seasonal homes, and people began to refer to them as "cottages." The term became even more common with the advent of the LCCA Cottage Tours.

However, the fact of the matter is that "camp" remains the most frequently used term. On numerous occasions, I have asked friends if I should remove my shoes as I enter their door, and invariably the reply is, "Leave your shoes on; its camp!"

I rest my case.

I would however like to know the history of the little metal green signs. Especially whoever had "Camp 1." If anyone knows, please get back to me at President@LakeCarmiVT.com. The evolution of the green signs is probably a story unto itself.

We continue to monitor the condition of the lake daily. Unfortunately, both the north and south aeration systems were down for a period earlier in the summer. This is the third year, and we have not had the opportunity to evaluate the aeration project based on an uninterrupted season of operation. The entire system, however, has now been running 24/7 for well over a month. We also have the continued, unwavering support from Everblue Lakes and the State of Vermont to see this project through to its success.

The third TMDL Coordination Team meeting of the season is scheduled for Thursday, Aug. 26, at 4 p.m. The Aeration Project, as well as other critical path projects developed through the Crisis Response Plan, will be discussed. I encourage you to participate. I assume at this point the meeting will be virtual. The link to the meeting will be distributed when available.

Speaking of meetings, we cancelled the Aug. 7 LCCA Annual Meeting and Pot Luck Supper due to the rising prevalence of COVID. The meeting will be held virtually via Zoom on Wed., Sept. 1 at 7 p.m.

A priority agenda item will be to approve the proposed revisions to the LCCA

Constitution and By-laws. The major changes include:

- 1) Under extenuating circumstances, Directors may exceed term limits upon approval of the Board.
- 2) The Executive Committee is re-defined as President, Vice President, Secretary & Treasurer and is empowered to act between Board meetings with subsequent approval by the Board.
- 3) The distinction between Recording & Corresponding Secretary is eliminated and is combined into one Board position.

If there are any questions about the Constitution & By-laws, please contact me at president@LakeCarmiVT.com.

Another aspect of the Annual Meeting will be the election of Directors. A total of three Directors are on the slate, each for a three year term. The LCCA is always looking for energetic people willing to work to achieve our mission. If anyone is interested or has questions, please see a current Director or contact me.

In preparation for the Annual Meeting, I contacted the VT Dept. of Fish & Wildlife, requesting the latest electro fish survey available. The report they sent was quite extensive. It set forth in detail the fine health of our fish population. The report is available on our website under Current News & Lake Announcements. When you read my introduction, click on "2019-2020 report," and the pages will unfold. I'm sure you will find it a very interesting evaluation of the fish in our lake.

Also, please remember that there are only a few weeks left in the Annual LCCA Fishing Contest, which ends Labor Day, Sept. 6. Trophies will be awarded in both the Junior & Senior Divisions for Pike, Walleye & Bass. Last year the Juniors out-fished the Seniors in 3 of 5 categories. Good luck to all down the stretch! Any questions, please call Ernie Englehardt at (802) 223-5529.

A Successful Farm Day and Getting LakeWise

We hope everyone is having a great summer so far and that you all have been able to enjoy Lake Carmi! It feels like the summer has flown by, but we have been busy doing what we can to help improve water quality and protect the lake. We continue tributary sampling throughout the summer. Despite the seemingly rainy few weeks we had towards the end of July, most of the tributaries have remained dry, leaving few sites with running water to sample. We plan to continue sampling as possible for the remainder of the summer, into the fall. As mentioned before, you can check out the FWC's website at any time to see up to date photos from our tributary sampling at www.franklinwatershed.org/tributary-sampling-2021.html.

In addition to tributary sampling, we continue to have both boat greeters working throughout the summer to do our best to prevent the spread of Aquatic Invasive Species. As we get towards the end of summer, it is particularly important to remember to check your boats or other watercraft for any plant matter when removing them from the lake and transporting them elsewhere. At Lake Carmi, as many of you know, the main invasive plant we have is the Eurasian Milfoil. By now the plant has had time to grow so it is far more likely to catch onto boats and other watercraft.

Around mid-late July, we began seeing the first significant algae blooms of the season at Lake Carmi. We will continue to sample sites weekly around the lake, but it is critical that you use caution before jumping into the lake or allowing pets and kids to go for a swim. You can go to www.healthvermont.gov/tracking/cyanobacteria-tracker for more information on cyanobacteria and how to identify it. If you spot a bloom on your shoreline, it would be very helpful if you took a few photos and sent them to me at tuckerwehnerfwc@gmail.com. We appreciate your help in keeping the community safe!

On Wednesday, Aug. 4, we attended Farm Day, hosted by Tim and Martha Magnant. It was a beautiful day in Franklin to meet some folks who have been doing so much to help protect our waterways. We also had the opportunity to check out the manure injector, and Jim Dewing gave us a demonstration to see it in action. We are so thankful for all the farmers who are using methods such as manure injection to reduce nutrient runoff into the lake. Thank you, farmers! (See photos from Farm Day on page 9.)

We have also been working to revamp the LakeWise program at Lake Carmi. A survey was sent out about a month ago, and we have begun reaching out to folks and evaluating some properties. If you filled out the survey and have not heard from me yet, I will be reaching out to you soon! We gave out the first new LakeWise award to Peter Pfefferle and Natacha Carpentier on Black Woods Road. Congratulations to them, and thank you for doing your part to protect the lake!

While the summer seems to be flying by, its not over yet! We will continue our work and hope you all have a great August and are able to enjoy this wonderful lake as much as possible. If you have any questions, concerns, or comments, please don't hesitate to reach out to me.

2022 Ice Out Tickets Now Available

In previous LCCA newsletters, we told you we were bringing back the annual Lake Carmi Ice Out contest. Well, the time has finally come!

We are happy to announce that the tickets have been printed, and in next few days and weeks, your friendly Lake Carmi Camper's Association Directors will be coming to your door to offer you the opportunity to purchase tickets and your chance to win next Spring.

Tickets are $2 each or 6 for $10. The winner will split a 50/50 pot (after expenses, which are minimal).

A few years ago, one of our Carmi camp owners purchased Ice Out tickets for her granddaughter. And lo and behold, her granddaughter guessed the closest Ice Out time. She used her winnings as her down payment on her first car! How's that for a heartwarming, happy ending?

You can buy tickets from an LCCA Director or by downloading the ticket templates on our website and mailing tickets and checks to LCCA, P.O. Box 1, Franklin, VT 05457. In addition, tickets will be available for purchase in January and February 2022 from various local stores in Franklin, Richford and Enosburg Falls. The deadline for ticket purchases is March 1, 2022.

The LCCA has not sponsored the Ice Out contest since 2016. This will be our only fundraiser this year, and all the LCCA share of the proceeds will go toward WATER QUALITY! This is your chance to support that all-important cause!

For more information, please email: president@LakeCarmiVT.com. And if one of our LCCA Directors doesn't come to your door and you want to purchase tickets, please remember to go to our website or email the above and we'll make sure to get tickets to you.

Good luck, everyone!

From Yankee Lake to Lake Carmi

By Nancy Johnson

When I was a child, my Mom and Dad bought a camp on Yankee Lake, Wurtsboro, NY.

I loved the camp. Mom and I would spend the summer there. I would swim and sail my Sun Fish from early morning until dark. When Dad was home, we played horse shoes and fished.

After Les and I got married, we focused our lives on soccer. Les coached at soccer camps, so the family would pack up and go with him. We were either at games or camps.

Dad passed away in 2002 and left me a little inheritance. I thought long and hard and decided that the best use of his money was to share my love for the water with my family. Living in Essex, we could have enjoyed Lake Champlain, but we never had the time.

I spent five years looking online for a camp. In the spring of 2009, I saw an ad in the paper for some open house camps on Lake Carmi. We had visited several lakes and camps, but nothing felt just right.

It was important to find a camp with room for our family. Lakeside so the grandchildren would not cross a road, situated away from the road, and easy lake access. Les wanted a westerly view. Oops. Something we could afford.

In the fall I noticed that one of the camps we had looked at was still available. Patience had paid off, and the price had been reduced. We made an offer and spent Dad's money wisely. We have not regretted our decision.

Our son and family from San Francisco visit for three weeks. This would not have happened without their newfound love for the water, woods, camp fires, family time etc. Our daughter and family live close by in Cambridge, so it is easy to get together regularly. Water skiing, wake boarding, and of course tubing.

This family time is cherished. We love our lake because it has charm, activity and support from the lake and local community.

My passion for the lake has been shared. Our family sits by the camp fire eating s'mores and sharing soccer stories while identifying stars and listening to loons.

My Dad and Mom would be so happy knowing that what they gave continues giving: LOVE.

Light Up Lake Carmi Participants Bring Holiday Cheer To Summer

June 30 to July 7 was Light Up Lake Carmi week.

Our theme this year was "Christmas in July," and everyone was encouraged to "light up" their cottages with bright lights and decorations.

This annual event is enjoyed by campers and visitors alike. It takes a bit of planning and effort, but it brings a festive, holiday spirit to the lake and makes the lakeshore come alive. It is one more example of why people want to spend time here to celebrate over the 4th of July holiday.

Thank you to all that participated by decorating their cottages again this year!

You help to make Lake Carmi the special place that it is.

The LCCA judges traveled around the lake by boat on July 5 and chose the following 2021 winners:

Brightest of Theme-Based Lights

The Johnson Family Camp, Patton Shore

They had lots and lots of lights and Christmas decorations! It was a sight to see.

Most Creative Lights

The Larivee Cottage, Hammond Shore

The cottage was decorated by Blake and Colin Teague, with assistance from Jackie Larivee. They decorated a farm tractor with tons of lights and had an inflatable Snowman at the wheel. How creative was that?

Congratulations to this year's winners! They will receive an LCCA award certificate acknowledging their efforts and ultimate win.

Please remember, even if you were not chosen as an award winner this year, your lights were enjoyed, appreciated and contributed to the festivity of the lake and holiday!

REPORT, from pg. 9

The annual Farm Meeting – hosted by UVM Extension, the Friends of Northern Lake Champlain, and the Farmer's Watershed Alliance – was recently held at the Bridgeman View Farm in Franklin. The meeting was a great chance to learn what progressive farming techniques are practiced in our watershed, and this year was no exception.

There was a terrific live demonstration of the hayfield manure injection system, as well as a very informative presentation in a cornfield regarding the integration of cover crops. All of this and more is being done to limit the impact of farming on our water quality. We truly appreciate these efforts and the amount of work required to implement them.

The Olympics are certainly exciting this year. One cannot help getting a thrill, watching Elle Purrier St. Pierre compete. "Local girl makes good" is a tremendous understatement.

The amount of hard work, determination and self-discipline that it takes to make it from Montgomery to the world stage that is the Olympics is truly a herculean feat. She has certainly earned our admiration and respect, but we also owe her a great deal of thanks and gratitude for allowing us to vicariously watch these Olympics in a manner many people never experience. At this writing, she has reached the finals in the 1500 meter race. An unbelievable accomplishment. We wish her a golden finish, but no matter where she places, Elle is a champion beyond measure. It's been a privilege to watch her journey.

That's about all for now. My dog just came in from a swim in the lake. She tracked in mud and then decided to rub her fur along the side of the couch. I was going to start cleaning, but it can wait. After all, its camp! Stay healthy, be safe, and see you around the lake!

UVM Extension's Jeff Sanders demonstrated the grassland manure injector at the annual Summer Farm Meeting with UVM and the Friends of Northern Lake Champlain. The injector has been well received by the farmers in the Carmi watershed and almost all are using it this summer. The injector leaves almost no residue behind and injects the manure 1 ½" into the soil, making almost no disturbance or damage to the field.
