A New, Busy Season Begins at Lake Carmi

President's Report

By Peter Benevento, LCCA President

We savor many intangible moments in life. You can't touch them, but you definitely feel them. They lighten our moods, and we always look forward to them.

Opening camp is one of those moments. The anticipation - even excitement - that builds as spring approaches is more than enough to dust off winter doldrums and re-energize our spirits. Opening camp is like getting a fresh start. It can be a time for setting new goals or no goals at all. Some eagerly plan projects while others open the door, clean, and just relax for the entire summer. In camper's terms, a fine goal indeed!

Whatever your pleasure, opening camp is a rite of passage for some of the best times of the year. Welcome to the 2022 Lake Carmi season!

Your LCCA Board of Directors met virtually and regularly over the winter, preparing for the coming season.

Our Celebrate Lake Carmi events begin by collaborating with the Town Recreation Committee to stage the third annual Chase for the Lake Triathlon. Entrants will get some of the best views of Lake Carmi by running, biking and kayaking near, around and in the lake. We are proud to showcase Lake Carmi in this manner and look forward to growing this event each year. So please reach out to family and friends and invite them to participate. The triathlon is scheduled for Saturday, June 25. Details are forthcoming.

Summer events continue with Light up Lake Carmi, the Pontoon Boat Race and a concert by a 50-piece band in the town park. The theme for Light Up Lake Carmi is Lake it Easy, and we invite you to illuminate your favorite pastime on the lake. Certificates will be awarded for Most Inviting, Most Creative, and Most Patriotic.

After a two-year absence due to the pandemic, we resume the pontoon boat relay race this summer. We are forming teams to represent the various shores, so if you are interested and have not yet entered the race, please send your name to me at president@lakecarmivt.com. Including the horsepower of your pontoon boat would be helpful. The race is the weekend of July 2. Details are forthcoming.

The holiday week continues with a concert in the town park on Thursday, July 7, at 6:30 p.m. The concert will again be coupled with the Franklin and East Franklin Churches' ice cream social at 6 p.m. Ice cream and cake for dinner ... It doesn't get better than that!

And don't forget the Franklin Fire Department Chicken Barbecue on Saturday, July 9. It's a very nice conclusion to an event-filled week.

On July 29, the LCCA sponsors a golf tournament at the Enosburg Falls Country Club to benefit the Lake Carmi Community Foundation. Plans are to make the tournament an annual event, alternating each year between the Enosburgh and Richford Country Clubs. More details are coming. We also plan to extend the concert series.

The one event you may notice is missing is our annual fireworks. We decided not to continue with the July 3 fireworks at the north end boat launch due to cost and competition. The cost for the fireworks display nearly doubled. Moreover, there are other firework displays that have established a place at the lake in recent years, and having one more at the north end seemed excessive. We can always reconsider in future years.

Efforts to improve the water quality in the lake were ongoing over the winter. We remained fully engaged with VT DEC and other partners to ensure our water quality initiatives

Watershed Work Continues at Carmi

I hope you all had a safe and happy winter season. We at the Franklin Watershed Committee have spent the winter working hard to get ready for the upcoming season. Now that the weather is getting warmer, we are getting excited to get back to the lake!

We have started sampling the tributaries already and plan to continue throughout this summer. The purpose of our sampling efforts is to track the amount of phosphorus, a nutrient that can lead to cyanobacteria blooms in our waterways. By tracking the levels of phosphorus in our tributaries, we have a better understanding of where the nutrient is coming from and can then focus our effort on implementing projects to reduce the amount of phosphorus before it gets to the lake.

We want to thank everyone who has helped us with this objective whether that be letting us sample on their property or helping us get organized and funding to test the samples. We are super excited to see what this year brings. You can stay up to date with our sampling efforts via franklinwatershed.org.

In addition to sampling, continue to do everything we can to help improve water quality up at Carmi. We are continuing with the LakeWise program. The LakeWise Program is an Agency of Natural Resources initiative that awards lake-friendly shoreland property, including that of state parks, town beaches, private homes, and businesses. This past year we assessed six camps, four of which were awarded the LakeWise award.

We at the Franklin Watershed Committee were fortunate to team up with the Franklin County Natural Resources Conservation District and Fitzgerald Environmental Associates, and we have received a grant to conduct a watershed-wide inventory and assessment of current Best Management Practices in place, as well as identifying new BMPs for potential implementation. This will take place over the next two years, and we will keep you updated as the work begins.

We will also continue closely monitoring and reporting any cyanobacteria (blue-green algae) blooms at Carmi this year. Last year we kept a photo journal of photos sent to us from folks around the lake. This was not an official report to the state, but we used it to emphasize the necessity of the work we do. There is an official state cyanobacteria tracker online. You can find more information about cyanobacteria and access the link to the state tracker where you can make an official report at <https://www.franklinwatershed.org/tracking-cyanobacteria-blooms.html>.

As the season gets closer and things get a bit busier, we will update folks through this newsletter, on our website, and on the Lake Carmi Life Facebook page. We look forward to seeing you all this summer and wish you a happy spring and safe travels back to Lake Carmi!

All Trails Lead to Lake Carmi In the Summer

By Suzanne "Suzi"
Hull-Casavant

Spring is here, summer is right around the corner, and all trails lead to the lake!

In my youth they also led all around the lake. It was nothing to see kids and adults alike cross in front of our camp as they traveled down the shore to meet up at another camp. The trails – crossed with roots and scenic boulder overlooks on the shore – were as familiar as the sidewalk outside my house.

I imagine many of you have those same paths, paths loaded with memories, scraped knees, and ending at the lake. Days of swimming, daydreaming, picnicking among the meadows and pine trees, creating sun dappled days that fill your memories in the deep of winter.

My path usually led down the shore to Bill and Gwen Greene's camp where I could find my cousin Kim.

All day was back and forth along the path or swimming up and down the shore, while floating and hauling a giant tractor tube to float and jump on. Someone had tied a rope around the middle, so it was like a figure eight. The trick was for Kim and me to stand up in unison on each end and then, if lucky, get one bounce in before we were tossed in the lake.

Evening would usually sport a belly rash from pulling ourselves up and over that tube all day, and occasionally the stubbed toe from a surprise root that for sure wasn't there the day before.

Soon those days arrive where we, a bit more gingerly, head down to the lake, maybe now to settle in a comfortable chair at the end of the dock with a cup of coffee to start the day off right.

Spend the day puttering around, enjoying the various projects we have been thinking about all winter, cleaning out the corners where mice or chipmunks have left winter debris to be swept away. Creating our own corners and spaces for quite interludes. The end of the daylight bringing on a traditional cruise around the lake.

All-in-all, time well spent in youth and those other years. Regardless of the age then and now, I will mark my summer days with a healthy amount of pine pitch on the bottom my feet that won't come off till the far-off fall.

Welcome back to Lake Carmi our happy lake.

continue. Recently, FWC President Rob Evans testified before the Vermont Legislature’s House Committee on Natural Resources, Fish & Wildlife. Rob clearly conveyed the overwhelming need for the State to remain focused on our clean water initiatives. Rob’s testimony also exhibited the passion we all have for Lake Carmi and our desire to improve it. Rob’s testimony will be available on both the Franklin Watershed Committee and the LCCA websites. (See pg. 8 for excerpts from Rob’s testimony.)

The UVM research platform was placed on the lake in mid-April, streaming data back to scientists in Burlington. The data will be used in part to gauge the startup date of the aeration system. This is done in conjunction with VT Dept. of Fish & Wildlife to ensure no impact on spawning walleye. This is the fourth year of operation for the aeration system. Modifications to enhance cooling at the compressors was completed last fall, and we expect a flawless operation over the summer.

The TMDL Coordination Team met twice since last fall. A major outcome was the updating of the Lake Carmi Crisis Response Plan (CRP). The CRP includes Critical Path Projects to improve our watershed. We are committed to seeing those projects implemented. Pursuant to the CRP, the presence of UVM Extension remains in the watershed consulting on best agricultural management practices such as injection manure and cover cropping.

We also remain committed to the Franklin Watershed Committee (FWC) and its efforts to secure grant funding for water quality projects. This summer the FWC will work directly with the local conservation district and an environmental firm to identify potential projects in the watershed. We look forward to this collaboration, the first of its kind at Lake Carmi.

We are regularly updating our website at lakecarmivt.com. Webmaster David Krayesky and LCCA Director John Costa have been diligent in keeping the website up to date and informative. We hope you visit it often.

This is the first of five newsletters to be published this season. We will also print an updated LCCA Directory. If you would like to contribute a newsletter article, please submit it to editors@lakecarmivt.com. Last year campers submitted articles on how they were introduced to the lake. We encourage this type of storyline, as well as all other Lake Carmi or Franklin-related articles. Please be positive.

Our 2022 LCCA Membership Drive recently kicked off with membership application mailings. Thanks to all who have responded. If you haven’t joined yet, please do. We need your support to make Lake Carmi “One Happy Lake.” We are planning a Membership Day for Saturday, June 11 from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the Franklin United Church. If you have already joined, please stop by to pick up your directory and window and membership cards. Coffee and donuts will be served!

Our next LCCA Board of Directors meeting is Thursday, May 26 at 6:30 p.m. at the Franklin United Church. Please check our calendar of events for all future meetings. All meetings are open to the public. If you would like to be on the agenda, please contact me at president@lakecarmivt.com.

I’ve worn out my keypad, so I will leave you until the June newsletter. Please be safe opening camp. Remember that all items get heavier over time. Especially for us “experienced” campers, so don’t hesitate to ask for help.

Stay healthy and see you around the lake!

Take The Drive On 105

Spring Worth the Wait in Franklin

By Ethan Dezotelle

“If we had no winter the spring would not be so pleasant.”

Those are the words of Anne Bradstreet, a poet among the earliest Puritan settlers in Salem, MA., in 1630.

Bradstreet traded a life of leisure as an English aristocrat for the brutal hardships of the New England wilderness. Her work is a reflection of those struggles.

The common ground I share with Bradstreet and her Puritan ilk is smaller than the tiny island at the south end of Lake Carmi. But as spring got underway in fits and starts this year, I agreed that the frigid slog of winter made the arrival of warmth, swollen buds on trees, and the rich green of new grass all the sweeter.

The day I crested the hill on Route 120 after work and saw the ice was gone from the lake ... I don't know if hitting the jackpot on a scratch ticket would be as exciting. And the first time I left the house without stopping for a cumbersome coat and heavy boots was magical.

Now, sitting on my porch, I see not just signs of spring, but signs of campers. A fresh swirl of activity to go with the reborn surroundings. The sound of a truck pulling a boat is always more welcome than the rumble of a snowplow.

Next winter, I'll hold these warm memories close, remember Bradstreet's words, and look forward the another round of fresh exhilaration.

Legislative Testimony of Rob Evans, FWC President & LCCA Vice President

Editor's note: FWC President Rob Evans testified before the Vermont Legislature's House Committee on Natural Resources, Fish & Wildlife recently regarding Lake Carmi. Excerpts from that testimony follow. A complete transcript can be found at lakecarmipvt.com.

My name is Rob Evans, and I'm the President of the Franklin Watershed Committee, Vice President for the Lake Carmi Campers Association, and a member of the TMDL Coordination Team. I have been the owner of a camp on Lake Carmi for 14 years and have raised my three children on its shores. I am proud to say that I have established some wonderful friendships with other camp families, with members of the Franklin Select Board, with members of the Franklin Community, our farming families, and many state water quality professionals with whom I have worked.

I first want to say thank you to this committee for supporting our clean water efforts. While I know that maintaining clean water is and will continue to be a state priority, we are grateful for your continued support for our clean water initiatives ... The extensive algae blooms we experienced several years ago, the public outcry, the fear and anxiety over the health risks associated with these blooms, the tensions between our campers, town residents, farming community and elected officials, boiled over into some very heated debates about how to manage this critical clean water dilemma.

I also want to express how grateful we are for the collaboration we have had with the Department of Environmental Conservation .... I also want to say that while we may not always agree with our agricultural partners, I do feel that through a lot of soul searching, self-reflection, and a lot of hard work, our relationships across all sectors are much better today than they have been in the past ...

To highlight the crisis of where we find ourselves today, in 2018 ... the Legislature designated Lake Carmi as a Lake in Crisis, which required the development of a state crisis response plan and the identification of critical pathway projects to address the continuing water quality challenges that we have been experiencing.

Since the Lake in Crisis designation, we have seen ... the deployment of an in-lake aeration system consisting of 80 diffusers that pump oxygen into the bottom of the lake in an effort to enhance mixing of the water and reduce the extent of the algae blooms we have been experiencing.

Our farm community has deployed a manure injection system designed to reduce the overland manure spreading in our watershed.

Working with our camper community, we have increased our education and outreach work to reduce the impacts of shoreline erosion, septic systems and private roads and driveways.

With the help of our friends at the University of Vermont and other state scientists in a number of state agencies, we are collecting an enormous amount on in-lake, tributary, ground water and soil sample data that will lead to development of science based strategies to help us meet our clean water goals.

The Island on Lake Carmi

The “Round Camp,” which was built on Lake Carmi’s tiny island by Dr. R.W. Adams in the early 1900s. The octagonal camp was later moved from the island to Patton West Shore.

By Dave Bennion

With a 1375-acre surface area, Lake Carmi is the fourth largest natural lake located entirely within Vermont. It is 7.5 miles around, averaging about 20 feet in depth, and is 33 feet at its deepest point.

The lake supports northern pike, walleyes, and other warm water species. The lake drains north into Quebec’s Pike River, then into Lake Champlain. Lake Carmi was once much larger, and was known as Franklin Pond and Silver Lake. In the thousands of years since the last ice age, the southern end of the original lake has silted in, creating wetland forests and the third largest peat bog in Vermont.

And Lake Carmi has an island!

Although small, the island in Lake Carmi has a long and interesting history. In 1906, Doctor R.W. Adams purchased the island. It was located about 600 feet from the shore of W. J. Riley’s farm on the Westcott Shore, and he built an octagonal cottage there. He, his relatives, and other campers enjoyed the island.

In later years, William Patton bought the “Round Camp.” With James Hanna and his sons, one winter he maneuvered that camp, intact, onto rollers. They drew it onto the ice with a team of farm horses, down to the Patton West Shore. There, it was disassembled and used to build a camp, the first camp on the camp road.

In 1931, ownership of the island passed to Frank & Jennie Manuel, then to R. W. Adams Jr. in 1946, adding Elaine Adams in 1958. In 1961, ownership passed to Walbridge & Helen Whiting, then to Wanda Robinson in 1982, and to Olin and Coralyn Samson in 1983. The final transfer of ownership was to Katie Thompson in 2016.

The island is now home to an American flag, seagulls, herons, eagles, and occasionally fireworks.

Testimony, from pg. 8

Now for some challenges:

Since the aeration system has been deployed, we have yet to have a year when the system has run throughout the entire summer ... While the data we have received from UVM points to the success of the system when it's functioning properly, if we don't find a long term and sustainable answer to these issues, I fear the significant financial investment in this technology will no longer be worth the annual electrical and maintenance investments required to keep this system running ...

While we recognize the significant clean water funds that are being pumped into the state, we continue to be challenged to find funding for our local watershed coordinator, local outreach and shovel ready projects, and the significant coordination required to collaborate with all those working to improve water quality at the lake.

We are concerned about the internal conflict we see between the Agency of Agriculture, Food and Markets and the Agency of Natural Resources in the oversight and regulatory obligations associated with the state's clean water initiatives. We feel strongly that the state needs to empower one state agency with the oversight, management and enforcement of the state's water quality standards ...

Due to the challenges with the aeration system and its inability to mitigate the impacts of internal phosphorous loading, now may be the time to explore an alum treatment for the lake ...

In my opinion, we need to prioritize the following:

We need to ensure that all the critical pathway projects associated with the Lake Carmi Lake in Crisis response plan get accomplished.

We need to increase the lake in crisis funding well beyond the $50,000 currently being allocated

We need to continue to financially support the data collection efforts currently being conducted by UVM staff ...

We need to continue to assist our farming community to provide financial support, equipment and training to assist in reducing the agricultural impacts on our lake.

We need to immediately fill the Lake Wise coordinator and aquatic invasive species positions that are currently being held vacant within DEC.

We need continued improvement of our state, local and private roads.

We need AOT to be a partner at our TMDL coordination committee meetings on a regular basis.

We need the VT Department of Health to continue to examine the health related issues associated with exposures to blue green algae ...

We need to consider a broadcast manure spreading ban in our watershed ...

For a state that is such an outspoken environmental advocate, we need to make the commitment to continue to prioritize our clean water efforts with powerful legislation, the appropriate level of oversight and regulation, and a continued financial commitment.

On behalf of our campers association, watershed committee and our clean water partners, I again want to say thank you for the opportunity to be here today ...

2022 LCCA Fishing Contest

We hope there is increased participation in the 2022 LCCA Fishing Contest this year since three trophies and seven honorable mention certificates were not awarded last year due to lack of entries.

This contest is for large and smallmouth bass, walleye, northern pike, and perch. Twenty trophies in each division are available, along with five honorable mention certificates.

Of special note is the fact that two youth entrants caught the largest fish of the species in 2021. Jaylen Grove had the largest northern pike at 6.56 pounds, and Findlay McGrath had the largest largemouth bass at 3.31 pounds!

There are two divisions in the 2022 LCCA Fishing Contest. The Adult division is for those older than 15. The Youth division is for those 15 and younger. In both divisions, the contest includes not only trophies for first and second place, but also recognition for third place with a certificate of honorable mention.

The fishing contest begins on Saturday, May 28, and ends on Labor Day, Sept. 5.

The winners will be notified and can pick up their trophies and certificates at the Franklin Town Clerk's office. All entries must conform to the State of Vermont fishing regulations. Winners for each species will be determined by the weight of the fish, with the length being used to break a tie. The official weighing and measuring will be done at the Franklin General Store. Fish being weighed and measured must be dead and in a plastic bag. Each angler must fill out the official weight in form at the store. Anyone is eligible to enter their catch as long as it came from Lake Carmi.

You can pick up a copy of the 2022 Vermont Fishing Guide at the Franklin General Store or the Franklin Town Clerk's office. Make sure you know the rules and can identify the species. A fishing license is required for anyone 15 and older.

Any youth who enters a fish in the contest is invited to take a lollipop from the container near the entry form clipboard each time they enter a fish in thanks for becoming a participant in this contest.

Please call Ernie Englehardt at (802) 223-5529 if you have any questions about the contest.

2021 LCCA Fishing Contest Results

There were 26 entries in the 2021 contest, 18 of which won either a trophy or certificate of honorable mention. Thirty awards were available to be won.

Anyone who fishes in Lake Carmi is encouraged to take their possible winning fish to the Franklin General Store, where they will be weighed and measured.

Trophies were awarded for first and second place entries. Winners for each species were determined by the weight of the fish, with the length being used to break a tie. Certificates of honorable mention were awarded for the third largest fish.

As you enter your fish during the 2022 season, please take a photo of the possible winner and fish and email it to LCCA news at editors@lakecarmi.vt.com so photos of the winners can be included in future newsletters.

Also note that many trophies and certificates of honorable mention went unclaimed because there were no entries at all. Take a trip to the Franklin General Store, enter your catch, and perhaps win a trophy!

Please call Ernie Englehardt at (802) 223-5529 or email logcabiniae@gmail.com if you have any questions about the contest.
